CAUSE

On July 24, 2006, James R. Damaso was sentenced to 20 months imprisonment followed by three years supervised release. Among other conditions, he was ordered to perform 400 hours of community service. On February 5, 2008, Mr. Damaso reported to the U.S. Probation Office and inquired if his community service condition could be modified to a fine. He indicated that he is now working six days a week as a heavy equipment operator and he does not have the time to perform community service. Mr. Damaso uses his one day off for rest and to spend time with his father. However, he now has the ability to pay a fine and is willing to have his wages garnished to ensure the fine is paid. Mr. Damaso is on Phase II for drug testing and Phase I for drug treatment and remains compliant with his other conditions of supervised release with the exception of performing community service.

To date, Mr. Damaso has performed 64 hours of community service and has a balance of 336 hours. Given the prevailing Federal minimum wage of $5.85 effective January 1, 2008, this Probation Officer suggests that the court impose a fine in the amount of $1,965.60 in lieu of performing the balance of his community service.

Attached is Probation Form 49, Waiver of Hearing to Modify Conditions of Probation/Supervised Release or Extend Term of Supervision, with Mr. Damaso's consent to the modification.
